Annmarie Cioffoletti Brown

November 30, 1964 - January 3, 2024

Patterson, NY

Annmarie “Annie” Brown was born November 30, 1964, in New Rochelle, NY. She passed away on January 3, 2024, after a very sudden decline in her health. She worked at the New Rochelle Police Department for many years until her retirement. Annie had many hobbies that she loved and enjoyed such as gardening, raising chickens, reading, collecting books, genealogy, and spending time with her husband, Bryan, and her fur-baby Kate.

Annie was incredibly kind, generous, and quirky. She loved with all she had and always worried about the health and safety of others. Annie often sought out ways to help and give to others. She also loved to make people laugh. At the end of each month, she donated to several teachers on DonorsChoose. She specifically sought out teachers from her old elementary and jr. high schools. She will be deeply missed by her family. Her legacy will live on in our hearts and minds.

Annmarie is predeceased by her father Michael Cioffoletti and her brother Michael Weissman. She is survived by her mother Irene Narok, her husband Bryan Brown (and their fur-baby Kate), her brother Michael Cioffoletti, her sisters Katherine (Frank) Giuliani, Kimberley (Justin) Ladouceur, Denise (William) Schoenleber and Gina (Sean) Butler, her sister-in-law Melodie Weissman, and her many nieces and nephews.

If you wish to donate in Annie's name, please consider the following organizations: ASPCA (Annie loved animals) and Donors Choose.

Annmarie requested a green burial and no wake. There will be a graveside prayer.
