Catherine Ann Gallagher

June 19, 1931 - March 25, 2025

Catherine A. Gallagher, 93, passed away peacefully in her sleep. Born in Washington, D.C., she moved to New York City as a teenager, where she found the cultural environment that sparked her lifelong love of art, and called New York City home ever since.

She found her love of art at Washington Irving High School and continued developing this passion at various institutions such as Art Students League, Pratt Institute, and Fashion Institute of Technology.

By profession, she was a graphic designer working for esteemed companies including Scholastic Magazine, McGraw Hill, and Avon, while also freelancing for various publications.

After retirement she only picked up the pace, continuing to stay active by refining her skills as a sculptor, exhibiting her work in gallery shows at the Art Students League and the Salmagundi Club on 5th Avenue, earning recognition in the art world.

Catherine was known for her fierce independence, innate creativity and adventurous spirit - all while being a single mother. She enjoyed organizing gatherings and hosting parties for her sports club, church group, family & friends. She has travelled extensively throughout Europe and South America.

Those who knew her best will always remember her for her outgoing personality, sense of humor, generosity & attention to detail. She is survived by her daughter Michelle, her son in law Peter, her two grand children Edward and Catherine, and many nieces and nephews.
