“ How do I describe Elizabeth with words.

Elizabeth lived her life in the most positive way. She saw the good in everything and encouraged others to do the same. She was a lady in not only her actions but in everything she did. Her actions and the incredible example that she showed her children and grandchildren are behaviors that should be emulated by all of us. Elizabeth was a person who possessed qualities we should all try to imitate.

I remember the woman who would hold my hand back in Knockanure, who opened her home to me and welcomed me. Whose heart swelled with pride whenever she saw her children or spoke about them. I remember the mischievous sense of humor, how she was the first to come running when times got tough, her excitement and awe at hearing the sound of a baby's heartbeat for the first time, it makes me laugh at how she made the doctor, repeat it over, and over, and over again and he did! The woman who stayed home, to take care of us and who was always there for us.

She was a person so filled with light. Everyone knew her. Everyone loved her. She was a generous, loving, supportive and unselfish woman who always put other people before herself. She was charitable, giving, considerate and kind. Her love of God and church never wavered.

Her love for her family was immense. She enjoyed being surrounded by her grandchildren and great grandchildren, in her remaining days and she would light up when they entered the room.

We will miss her with all of our hearts and will always cherish the times we spent together and her memory will live in all of our hearts forever, she has not left us and everyone should have faith that she will be watching over them because that is just the kind of person she was.

God Speed Elizabeth, we will miss you, our mom, our nan, our mother-in-law, until we meet again, may you rest in internal peace.

“ Mom you are forever in our hearts never to be forgotten. I have no words to describe the sorrow I am feeling right now at loosing you but I have the memories of all you have done for us as a family . Your mischievous humour and laugh and your smile will always keep you close to me. Always remembered but never forgotten.
