“ I trusted Maureen with my 6 week old daughter to “be me” so I could continue working. Absolutely no regrets. She filled my shoes completely loving my daughter and giving her sisters and a brother to share. She was an amazing mother and friend. May you rest in peace Maureen. We love you.

“ I remember Maureen as an extremely resilient, level-headed woman, with an immensely big heart, for everyone. She truly embodied momma bear energy. I remember her making peanut butter and jelly sandwiches while we watched soaps or the price is right, and her telling me not to talk to strangers or accept food from strangers—which we did once lol. Some rando person gave Kerri and I an ice pop and Maureen told us that wasn't safe and took them away, as she should have 😂. I remember her putting Band-Aids on my scraped knees and putting me back together when I'd mess myself up. I remember Maureen being my safe person and putting up with my sassy emotional bs every single day through the first half of my young existence. I'm really grateful for her and to have been loved by her. She'll always be my other mommy.
