“ Today, a mutual friend informed me of Shutong’s passing and I was incredibly shocked and saddened to hear that. Shutong and I were in the same piano studio for a brief time. I was immediately attuned to his artistry and dreams when we would chat; he was a kind man and I think we connected well because we were both “late starters” in our own way.

I was—and always will be—inspired by his drive to perform great music and bring people together. Shutong understood the true essence of music-making: building community through artistry and message. He was a bright light and his light will live on in the musicians he inspires and the people whose lives he graced.

“ My deepest condolences to his family. I knew Shutong Li when he lived in New Mexico. I had the good fortune to play music under his baton, both in a full orchestra and in smaller groups he assembled to perform orchestral music arranged for smaller groups. I so respected him for his unconventional path to music and how he was able to do just about everything in putting together the small music groups. I hadn't heard until now that he had become a father and I feel very sad in particular for his son.

“ Shutong Li was a member of the International Conductors Guild, a nonprofit service and membership organization for conductors that helps provide educational training for conductors throughout their careers. Shutong attended our January 2024 Conference at Lincoln Center in NYC and was so excited to meet other conductors, learn from experts, and observe the conducting workshop as well. We are all devastated at his passing. Such beauty and talent will be revealed in Heaven. God bless Shutong's wife and son. May he rest in eternal peace.

Despite our feelings of profound loss at this news, we find ourselves feeling so blessed to have been a part of Shutong's time in Albuquerque! We witnessed his tenacity and drive to pursue his love of music, his grace and patience in the face of adversity, his determination to successfully bring local musicians and singers together to perform highly complex operas and symphonies with beautiful effect, and we remember his love and loyal devotion to the love of his life, Ruimin. We give a standing ovation to Shutong who showed us how to pursue dreams with passion and creativity. We have been blessed!
